

Course Information: Day Skipper Theory

A comprehensive introduction to: chartwork, navigation, meteorology and the basics of seamanship. This course will equip you with the theoretical knowledge required to navigate around familiar waters by day, and is invaluable for learning how to start making decisions on board and if you are considering taking the Day Skipper practical course.

Day Skipper Shorebased Course
Max client / instructor ratio	54:::11
Pre-course experience	Some practical experience desirable
Assumed Knowledge	None
Course content	Basic seamanship and introduction to navigation and meteorology. A basic knowledge of lights, weather and IRPCS is also included.
Ability after course	Sufficient knowledge to navigate around familiar waters by day.
Minimum duration	40 hours and 2 assessment papers

All our theory courses take place in our purpose built air conditioned classroom, complete with the latest facilities.

Our courses include accommodation - and can be taken either on their own or with another course. They are run over 6 days which gives you extra time to revise some areas of the theory or go for an extra days sailing.